

Government Set To Buy Pork To Support Hog Prices

By OVID A. MARTIN
WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 —(AP)— The government, acting to strengthen producer prices of hogs, today became a competitor of the housewife for bacon and ham.
Announced by the agriculture department last night, the federal pork buying program is expected to have political reactions as well as effects on the cost of living.
Unannounced quantities of pork will be bought in a move to assure hog farmers prices which the government has promised them. Heavy marketings have pulled hog prices slightly below levels which, the department said, would guarantee a national farm average of $14.90 for 100 pounds this month.

Government buying will be limited for the time being to bacon, smoked hams and smoked picnic shoulders. But it is expected to boost not only hog prices, but to push up prices which consumers pay for virtually all pork cuts and possibly prices of beef, lamb and mutton.
The pork buying program has announced the same day the department disclosed it is ready to give away surplus potatoes to the school lunch program, the bureau of Indian affairs, and relief agencies helping the needy at home and abroad. The potatoes are being bought by the department under a grower price support program.

Politics may be drawn into the pork program because (1) it recalls arguments supporters have made for the controversial Brannan farm plan endorsed by President Truman, and (2) it raises the question of whether government purchases of lard alone would have supported hog prices.
If meat prices go up—as department officials said they most assuredly will do—it will give administration leaders another chance to argue for the Brannan proposal. This plan has been cold-shouldered so far by Congress and bitterly opposed by most of the major farm organizations.

Under this plan, the government would not buy pork or other perishable farm products to support prices. Instead, it would allow prices to drop to natural levels, with the government making up the difference to farmers between market prices and support guarantees by government subsidies paid from taxes.
This plan, supporters contend, would permit cheaper retail prices while at the same time assuring farmers a just return.

Bandits Grab $1,000,000 In Daring Holdup in Boston

BOSTON, Jan. 18 —(AP)—A sweeping bandit hunt was under way today for seven grotesquely-masked gunmen who scooped one million dollars in cash and left a million behind in one of the biggest holdups in history.
FBI agents and state police joined local police who were under orders to "break this thing up before a new outbreak develops."
FBI agents across the country alerted because federal reserve bank funds were included in the loot.
Ellis Hult, vice president of the Boston Federal Reserve, said the transportation firm handles the delivery of funds of a number of member banks.

In a special department order, Police Supt. Edward W. Fallon told his men:
"Don't stop until you find these men. I want every available detective to work on this case."
Precision Execution
The gunmen—in a 20-minute precision raid—snatched the money from an open vault in the sprawling waterfront garage of Brink's Inc., a money transportation firm, after gagging and trussing five employes last night.

Along with the million in cash the gangsters grabbed $500,000 in checks.
Cruiser cars raced through the city and outlying districts during the night running down a number of tips that proved worthless.
Shortly after the holdup, police chased at break-neck speed a five-passenger black Cadillac sedan thought to be the getaway car. They lost it in the city's west Roxbury district.
Police believed the car, bearing stolen registration plates, headed for Providence, R. I. The plates (Mass. 156,533) were stolen in Boston last week, police said.
"It's very obvious," Fallon said, "that these men used a master key to open all those doors." The gunmen went through six locked doors before reaching the vault where they cowed five employes.
While husky patrolmen toured the city's underworld spots picking up suspects, alarms sounded descriptions of the holdup men along the eastern seaboard.

11 Suspects Held
Eleven men were taken to headquarters for questioning. No charges were placed against them.
Shotgun-armed squadmen roared into Foxboro, a town between Boston and Providence, on a tip that four men wearing peajackets had entered a house there. The tip was worthless.
"This job was definitely pulled by somebody who knew every inch of the company's layout," Fallon told reporters.
"It's a tough job to pin down descriptions of the holdup men," the superintendent added.
Descriptions given by witnesses varied. The best indicated that all were about five feet, nine inches, weighing approximately 180 pounds.
Six wore rubbers, the seventh crepe-soled shoes. The purpose of these was to kill off sound as the desperadoes headed into the building.

Oleo Tax Repeal Seems Certain, Foes Concede

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 —(AP)— A long fight to repeal federal oleomargarine taxes, some of them dating back to 1886, drew toward an apparently victorious climax today.

Advocates of the repeal measure said they expected it to be passed and sent to the house before nightfall in a quick sequence to defeats suffered yesterday by dairy state Senators.

A hurdle still to be cleared was a trio of civil rights amendments offered by Senator Langer (R-Ind.), but the outlook was that they would be brushed aside without a prolonged scrap.
A motion will be made to table (defer indefinitely) his anti-poll tax, anti-lynching and fair employment practices amendments. Opponents contend they have no place in oleomargarine legislation.

An effort also was being made by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) and Senator Butler (R-Neb.) to keep alive a proposal to tack a general cut in excise taxes to the bill, but it looked like a forlorn gesture.
Wiley was one of the chief sponsors of a proposed dairy state substitute for the house-passed bill to erase the oleomargarine taxes. It went down to defeat yesterday 48 to 37.

The substitute, while also wiping out the taxes, would have banned interstate shipments of yellow colored oleomargarine.
Senator Fulbright (D-Ark.), directing strategy for the repeal bill, told reporters that he now expects the measure to pass quickly by a top-heavy majority.

Newspaperman Dies

NEW YORK, Jan. 18 —(AP)— Lee Evans, chief of the Cincinnati Enquirer's New York office, died last night. Evans, 65, was found in a coma several hours earlier at his Riverside Drive apartment. Death was attributed to a cerebral hemorrhage. He was a former city editor of the paper.

Stolen Calf Is Stolen Again During Cattle Rustlers' Trial

CLEVELAND, Jan. 18 —(AP)—If the FBI can find that calf again, Mrs. Myrtle Race would be very happy.

The brindle critter, marked by a slit in one ear, figured in a federal court trial here yesterday. Despite demands from the defense that it be produced as evidence, Judge Emerich B. Freed ruled it was not essential to the case.

The calf once belonged to Hosea Esley of Watson, W. Va. He testified he paid $23 for it. Last August it disappeared.
Assistant U. S. Attorney William C. Graves told the court it was placed in the back of an old car by three men who drove to Mrs. Race's little farm between Canton and Salem. They sold it to her for $20, he claimed.

FBI agents found the calf and placed charges against Paul Brown, 29, of Alliance, O., his brother Leon, 38, of Mannington, W. Va., and Robert C. Brownlee, 19, of Canton, O.

In the midst of their trial, the trio pleaded guilty. The brothers were sentenced to 30 days in jail. Brownlee's sentence was deferred, pending a report from the probation department.

Meanwhile, says Mrs. Race, the calf has disappeared again—presumably stolen.
"She's crazy about the calf," Graves said. "She wants the FBI to find it for her."

Doors To Be Locked on Secrets

Powerful H-Bomb To Be Discussed

BY ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 —(AP)— Lawmakers concerned about the awful possibilities of an "H-bomb"—maybe a thousand times as ruinous as an A-bomb—are due to get the military's views on it tomorrow.

Some conservative estimates rate such a hydrogen bomb as "only" twice as powerful as the city-smashing atomic bomb.
Gen. Omar N. Bradley, the nation's top military man, is expected to testify before the Senate House Atomic Energy Committee at that time, behind locked doors.

An undercover quarrel over what to do about making, or not making, a super-destructive bomb powered by hydrogen already has the capital upset.

Up until now the argument has gone on in the top-secret levels of the administration and Congress. It has now become so bitter and the factors involved so fundamental that some of the participants are inclined to bring the row out before the public. The big, and necessarily long, question is this: Should the United States embark on the making of a new weapon which could kill many times the 78,000 who died when a relatively old and inferior atomic bomb was dropped on the Japanese city of Hiroshima, and perhaps destroy everything living or standing on hundreds of square miles of land?

From this stems a whole series of profound questions, like these: 1. Does Russia's alarmingly swift

Mud Dredged To Free 'Mo'

NORFOLK, Va., Jan. 18 —(AP)— The next attempt to float the 45,000 ton battleship Missouri, stuck on a mudbank in Chesapeake Bay near Old Point Comfort, will be made tonight, the Navy announced.

It was decided to make no effort to float the huge battleship on high tide this forenoon but to use a dredge to remove some of the mud blocking her way back to the main ship channel. At high tide about 9 o'clock tonight it is expected the 16 tugs which failed to budge the "Mighty Mo" in their first attempt last night will try again.

The last of the Missouri's fuel oil was being removed today. If that doesn't help has ammunition will be taken off tomorrow, the Navy said.

Naval officers pointed out that tides will be progressively lower until January 26 when the moon changes, and that the battleship went aground at high tide yesterday.

Life In Prison Faced

Wilmington Boy Guilty Of Policeman Murder

WILMINGTON, Jan. 18 —(AP)— Martin Snell, 17, who killed a policeman when interrupted while attempting to rape a little girl, was found guilty today and sentenced to life imprisonment.

A three-judge court convicted the boy and recommended mercy. A charge of killing a policeman who is on duty is the same as a first degree murder charge in Ohio.

The court recommended mercy for Snell "in view of his age, both chronological and mental."
Had Snell been an adult, the court said, no such finding would have been made.

Snell, who showed no emotion as sentence was pronounced, smiled after turning away from the court to be led back to his cell.

Snell also was sentenced by presiding Judge Charles R. Kirk to one to 15 years' imprisonment for assault with intent to rape.

The other judges hearing the case are George W. McDowell of Hillsboro and Harry M. Rankin of Washington C. H.

Snell pleaded guilty to slaying

TUGS TRY IN VAIN (top) to pull the mighty battleship Missouri, only U. S. battlewagon, now in service, off a mud shoal in Hampton Roads near Norfolk, Va. ## Violence Flares In Ohio--Coal Shortage Acute

Weeks May Elapse Before Decision Is Given in Case

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 —(AP)— Robert N. Denham, general counsel of the national labor relations board, said today he is applying for a court order to put coal miners back on a normal five-day work week.

Denham said a complaint charging John L. Lewis and his miners union with unfair labor practices is the basis for the court action.

Denham said his aides are going into court this afternoon to apply for a temporary injunction. This type of application calls for a hearing to be set by the court before any order is issued.

Denham said that he is not asking for a temporary restraining order—the kind of legal proceedings which calls for immediate action by the court.

Conceivably, it might be weeks before the court would act. Denham's complaint charges that Lewis has been failing to bargain in good faith, with the coal operators.

ECONOMY TOTTERS
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 18 —(AP)— Coal rationing and industrial curtailments today rained new blows on the nation's economy in the seven-state strike of more than 90,000 soft coal miners.

The Retail Coal Merchants Association of Pittsburgh said stocks are so low coal will be rationed on a priority basis. Such essential users as hospitals will get first call.

The Mammoth United States Steel Corporation announced new production cutback plans.

The B. F. Goodrich Company of Akron, Ohio, fired off telegrams to President Truman and congressmen saying rubber industry is threatened by coal and power shortages.

In Pittsburgh, President John P. Busarello of the United Mine District Five said his staff is out in the fields urging striking miners to return to the pits Monday.

Busarello said no new word had been received from UMW President John L. Lewis but his action was taken in line with Lewis' recent suggestion that full scale coal production be resumed. Weekend meetings are scheduled in scores of locals.

Although five Pennsylvania mines, employing 2,600 miners, resumed operations, Alabama and Kentucky reported new walkouts.

The number of idle Alabama miners rose 1,000 to 9,000. In Kentucky, the figure jumped from 7,500 to 11,000.

Learning Hard Way
Over the country, Americans are learning the hard way that bituminous (soft coal) is basic.

Above-ground coal supplies are dwindling. Railroad service has been curtailed. In Pittsburgh, coal-hungry power companies predict they'll soon have to ration electricity.

Less than three weeks ago the United Mine Workers' new check-board strike strategy appeared. Instead of a nationwide coal strike, the miners have struck in segments—one group returning to work as another walked out.

Today, more than 85,000 of the nation's 400,000 soft coal miners are not working.

Miners now idle:
Pennsylvania ..... 48,350
West Virginia ..... 12,000
Ohio ..... 9,000
Alabama ..... 8,000
Kentucky ..... 7,500

Spokesmen in the coal industry believe the strike strategy is just another attempt by the miners to

Colorado Brush Fires Die Out---Loss Heavy

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Jan. 18 —(AP)—Flames flickered out today from a wind driven brush fire that lashed through Camp Carson yesterday, killing one soldier, seriously burning 27 others and destroying 39 buildings.

The fire started in the foothills of the Rockies southwest of here before dawn yesterday. In less than 16 hours, gale force winds had driven the flames nearly 10 miles to within striking distance of the small town of Fountain, south of here.

Shortly after sunset the winds subsided and some of the 7,000 volunteers who had toiled throughout the day brought the flames to a standstill just north of Fountain.

Six of the hospitalized soldiers were reported in critical condition from burns. The others were in serious condition.

Their names were unavailable because records had been transferred when flames threatened the entire camp of more than 1,300 buildings. The camp housed 30,000 troops in wartime.

Families Routed
More than 600 wives and children of Camp Carson soldiers were evacuated to Pueblo, 40 miles south of here.

Several mountain cabins and summer homes in the vicinity of Cheyenne Mountain southwest of Colorado Springs were destroyed in the first hours of the fire's sweep.

Several palatial residences in the Broadmoor district were threatened before the wind veered to the south. They included the home of L. B. Maytag, washing machine executive.

FIRES FLARE AGAIN
COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Jan. 18 —(AP)—Fires flared up again today in the ravaged area south of here where a gale swept brush fire left two soldiers dead and three missing.

The soldier died almost instantly while fighting a barracks fire. A sudden wind shift trapped him and six other men in a sea of flame. They are the six in critical condition.

The destroyed buildings at Camp Carson included 15 storehouses, three barracks where men were living and a score of abandoned barracks in a section that had been used to house war prisoners.

Chrysler Pension Plan Rejected and Strike Notice Given

DETROIT, Jan. 18 —(AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers, rejecting Chrysler's $100-a-month pension offer, handed the corporation a seven-day strike notice today.

The ultimatum was handed the company at the start of regularly scheduled negotiations today.

There was no immediate comment from the company.

Norman Matthews, UAW Chrysler director, said the union considered Chrysler's pension offer, made late yesterday, "unsound and inadequate."

Total benefits in the offer amount to only about five cents per hour, Matthews said. In a recent pension agreement between the UAW and Ford Motor Company union gains were estimated at 10 cents an hour.

The pension would pay each retired worker $100 a month, including social security benefits. The retirement age was set at 65. Chrysler's plan required only 25 years' service for eligibility, compared to 30 years for Ford.

One Chrysler-UAW issue was over financing of the plan.

Gun In Hand, Cincy Cop Chases His Man

CINCINNATI, Jan. 18 —(AP)— Pedestrians scattered along a two-block, downtown area yesterday as a city detective, with gun in hand, chased a man wanted on charges of passing worthless checks.

The suspect, Raymond Ellis, 23, was captured in an alley after the detective, Philip Brewster, had chased him along a crowded sidewalk and through a doctor's office.

MAHANOEY CITY, Pa., Jan. 18 —(AP)— The body of Edward Burda was recovered at noon today from the anthracite mine where he was trapped last Friday. Doctors at the scene said he apparently had suffocated.

Meanderings

By Wash Fayette

I am wondering if piano tuning is not becoming a lost art?

Years ago there were several piano tuners in Washington C. H. Of course, in those days there probably were more pianos to tune.

Now, so far as I know, Homer C. Fortier is the only tuner left in this part of Ohio.

As a result, Homer is called hither and yon to tune pianos, so that his work is by no means confined to Fayette and adjoining counties.

I have known Homer to start out on a fishing trip but, when it became known that he was a tuner, his fishing was spoiled, and tuning demands grew in the communities where he was supposed to fish, until weary of tuning one piano after another he turned homeward to get some rest.

"Style Show" At Marion PTA

Men Stage Burlesque Of Female Apparel

The men of the Marion School PTA have had their night.

The Tuesday evening meeting was "Men's Night", and the males took advantage of the opportunity to stage a burlesque "Style Show" of female wearing apparel.

Following the style show, the group was treated to some old-time songs, sung in harmony by a group from New Holland. The singers included Vernon Benroth, Woodrow Workman, Wendell Shaw, George Hachenbrach, Earl Arnold, Jr. and Alvin Writzel. Mrs. John Dick accompanied the group on the piano.

The evening's entertainment, in charge of John Weidinger, found the men and boys portraying a variety of personalities in the style show, as follows:

Mrs. Bob Hope, Ronald Dean; Shirley Temple, Wendell Oberschlake; Mrs. Milton Berle, Harry Wolfe; Gravel Gertie, Norman West; Lily Pons, Bill Trimmer; Miss Hathreath Callaghan, Loren Cartwright; Minnie Pearl, Lowell McBrayer and Ruth Mix, Russell Oberschlake.

Rita Hayworth was played by Joe Bob Oberschlake; Miss Mouthy Jones by Gordon Writzel; Mae West by Paul Glaze and Princess Margaret by Ronald Moon. The models for the style show were accompanied by the group George Pensyl on the piano.

The business session was conducted by the PTA's president, Mrs. George Trimmer.

It was announced that the PTA would serve lunch at the home sale at the Fairgrounds, January 25. On the sale committee are Mrs. Loren Reif, Mrs. D. O. Cherryholmes and Mrs. Martin O'Call.

The sixth, seventh and eighth grades will be in charge of the next meeting on February 2.

On the social committee for the February meeting are Mrs. George Hachenbrach, Mrs. Charles Duff, Mrs. Paul Thompson and Mrs. Lester Stephenson. Miss Lois Cherryholmes will be in charge of devotions.

Following the Tuesday meeting, the gathering adjourned to the cafeteria for coffee and sandwiches, with the men serving as hosts.

Youth Is Held For Killing

MARIETTA, Jan. 18—(AP)—Coroner J. A. McCowan reported today he found a lead bullet in the skull of Gordon Roe, slain Newport farmer whose body was exhumed yesterday.

Roe's body was found Aug. 16 in a cornfield on his farm. Bobby Herlan, 16-year-old Newport student, is being held on a charge of first degree murder. He entered the plea of innocent and goes on trial Feb. 6.

Dr. McCowan first ruled Roe died of a heart attack. Several weeks later Prosecuting Attorney E. E. Erb charged young Herlan with first degree murder after the youth confessed to shooting Roe and taking $125 from the body.

Erb ordered the body exhumed Monday from the Newport Township Cemetery, 18 miles of Marietta.

Thirty-Eight Women At Adult Sewing Class

A turnout of 38 women for the first adult sewing class of the year was announced today by Mrs. Olive Woodyard, head of the home economics department at Washington C. H. High School and instructor of the class.

The first adult sewing class was held Tuesday night at the high school. There was a discussion of choosing patterns and a display of dresses. The next class will be held at 7:30 P. M. next Tuesday in the home economics department at WHS.

Full House At Sabina Minstrel

Teen Aged Tap Artist Big Hit

A full house, estimated at between six and seven hundred people, packed the Sabina high school auditorium Tuesday night for the annual minstrel show of the Moose Lodge.

The audience, part of which occupied extra chairs brought in for the show, was treated to a variety of entertainment and show of talent that surprised many.

One of the most enthusiastically received numbers was teenager Judy Babb's tap dance on roller skates. Judy, from Wilmington, is about 14 years old.

Al Burley, of Columbus, got a big ovation for his dance specialties and harmonic selections. Miss Jo Campbell, also of Columbus, put on a novel song and dance routine.

Shoop Plays Accordion

Walter Shoop, who was in charge of the musical arrangements, entertained the capacity crowd with a series of Dixie tunes on his accordion and sang "Only a Paper Moon" and "Good Hearts and Gentle People."

The flashily-attired chorus, in red ties and white coats, sported red carnations donated by Ernest Geary's Greenhouse. Geary sang a solo, as did Robert Speakman of Jamestown, Walter Hartman, Joe Creamer and Herbert Arehart. Walter Ewing and Paul Kelly, two end men, also sang solos.

Arehart was in charge of directing the show and coordinated the activities that turned the minstrel into such a success Tuesday.

Jack Burris and Jim Wilson proved a hit with their song specialty and comedy dialogue. They also presented a duet on "Alexander's Ragtime Band."

Midway through the program, the junior class of the Sabina High School was presented with a gift from the Moose Lodge.

More Flee Floods

from their homes in southeast Missouri, other thousands have been made temporarily homeless in Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Arkansas and Tennessee by the floodwaters from rivers in the lower Mississippi and Ohio valleys.

In Arkansas the St. Francis, the Ouachita, White and Little Red rivers spilled water over parts of 15 counties, driving out at least 350 families. Other floodwaters have forced 450 families to leave their homes in west Tennessee. More than 4,000 persons have left their homes in Illinois and Indiana.

The floodwaters have caused widespread damage to crops, livestock and property. While floods harassed wide areas in the midwest and south, a new, fast-moving storm roared through the central Great Plains and howled across the northern Great Lakes region. It headed for the north central states.

The mercury plunged to 42 degrees below zero at Bismarck, N. D., today and it was a frosty 36 below at Havre, Mont., and -34 at International Falls, Minn. The cold air covered an area from the Pacific northwest eastward over the upper Great Lakes and southward over the central plains states. The low at Spokane, Wash., was -10.

Mrs. Sheridan Bond Dies Tuesday

Mrs. Sheridan Bond, 51, was found dead in a chair at her home near Buena Vista at 12:30 P. M. Tuesday. She had been ill for a month.

She had lived at her home near Buena Vista for some 25 years. Survivors include her husband, Sheridan Bond, at home; two sons, Douglas and Dallas of Sharonville; a daughter, Geraldine, at home; one brother, Henry Buchartz of Ross County; three sisters, Mrs. Bessie Johnson of near Waverly, Mrs. Minnie Clifford of Waverly, and Mrs. Carrie Belford of Columbus.

Funeral services will be held at the Parrett Funeral Home in Washington C. H. at 2 P. M. Friday, with Rev. Charles P. Taylor in charge.

Burial will be made in the Good Hope Cemetery.

Services Are Held For Terry Griffith

Funeral services for Terry Griffith were held at 1 P. M. Tuesday at the home of Wayne Davey in Sedalia.

Rev. J. A. Thornton, of the Sedalia Methodist Church, officiated and offered prayer, delivered the sermon and read the scripture and a poem, "Pioneering."

Misses Barbara Johnson and Mae Purdin sang the hymns, "In The Garden" and "The Old Rugged Cross," accompanied by Mrs. R. C. Walwood.

Burial was made in the family lot in the Bloomingburg Cemetery.

The pallbearers were Ned and Glenn Davey, Arthur Storts, Ralph Newton, Arthur Hakes and William Corbin.

speedily into the room and scooped the money, all in paper bags, from the carts in the open vault. They stuffed the loot into laundry bags and disappeared as quickly as they entered.

The five employees were trussed and gagged.

Police Capt. John D. Ahern of the special service squad said the robbery "was so neatly executed it must have been engineered by the cream of Boston's crime world."

Fatal To Resist

Two employees of Brink's, scene of last night's sensational $1,000,000 cash robbery, said they feared death if they resisted.

"My God, what could I do?" exclaimed Charles S. Grell, a messenger.

"We were covered by seven guns," he said, "and it would have been death if I didn't open the gate when I was ordered to."

"Even if I didn't open it, they could have had one of their members climb over the gate while they held us under the guns and opened it from the inside."

"I didn't have any choice but to open it."

James R. Allen, a cashier, said he "didn't dare" reach for a gun in the nearby weapon rack.

"I walked right near the shotgun rack," he said, "but didn't dare go for one of the weapons."

"We would all have been mowed down by the gang if I had."

"One walked up to me and knocked off my glasses with the flip of his hand. At first, I thought it was a bunch of kids—particularly with those masks on."

"But when I saw the guns, I knew they weren't kidding."

Mine Row In Court

needle the operators into signing a contract.

VIOLENCE IN OHIO
ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Jan. 18 — (AP)— State highway patrolmen were cruising this eastern Ohio coal mining area in increased numbers today, following the traffic death of a union miner at a road block last night.

The victim, Silvio Dalpiaz, 56, of Lafayette, O., was one of about 15 union miners reported to have set up the blockade on state route 331 near Flushing, 10 miles west of here.

The miners were said to be part of a group dissatisfied with John L. Lewis' three-day work week—trying to persuade miners in the nearby Crescent Valley Coal Co. strip mine not to work, and to keep truckers from hauling coal.

Dalpiaz was killed when hit by a truck hauling coal from the mine. Lawrence S. Frank, 20, of Piedmont, O., driver of the truck which hit Dalpiaz, was held in Belmont County Jail here for investigation.

No charges were placed against him. Orders to prevent blockades came directly from Col. George Mingle, patrol superintendent, on instructions from Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

The governor issued a formal statement saying that Ohio highway

The Nation Today

BY JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 — (AP)— President Truman asked Congress to set up a housing program for middle-income families.

There's a bill in the Senate now to carry out the idea, whether or not the Senate and House ever approve it.

But that bill will be the basis for anything Congress does on middle-income housing.

This story will try to explain what the bill would do if it became law, but only in outline, not in full detail.

The senators sponsoring the bill say that by middle income families, they mean people with income between $2,400 and $4,700.

This doesn't mean that anyone making more than $4,700 — say $6,000—couldn't get housing under the program. For example: A group of people, perhaps in an American Legion Post, get together. Most of them make $2,400-$4,700. Some make more.

So long as most of them are between $2,400-$4,700, it's all right. The other, fewer higher paid ones can join in.

This group decides they need in their area a housing project with living units that can be afforded by $2,400-$4,700 people.

Say, for example, there are 125 people in this particular group. They want to build and own 125 units costing $8,000 each, or a total of $1,000,000. What kind of units, single dwellings, double or multi-family homes, would depend on the plans they drew up.

By himself, no one person in the group could get help under the bill. Together they could, if they cooperated. So they form a cooperative.

But they need money for preliminary plans, surveys, expert advice, and so on. They go to the government, to the present Housing and Home Finance Agency (HHFA).

The HHFA investigates, finds the cooperative is legitimate and not a cover-up for some private individual who wants government help, and is satisfied it's a serious business deal.

For these preliminary plans the HHFA can lend up to 5 per cent of the total cost of the project. In this case — a $1,000,000 project — the loan would be $50,000. The HHFA can also send in its experts to advise the co-op.

Now comes the next step: Borrowing the $1,000,000 to build. The co-op doesn't go back to the HHFA. Instead, it goes to a new agency, set up under HHFA, called the National Mortgage Corporation for Housing Cooperatives (NMCHC).

If the NMCHC is satisfied about the deal, it lets the co-op have a loan of $1,000,000. (The co-op then hires private contractors to do the building.)

The loan is a direct loan to the co-op. It's not a matter of the NMCHC guaranteeing a bank loan to the co-op.

Is it just so simple as that? Hand over government money and the co-op doesn't have to put up a dime? No.

In the first place, the co-op would have to agree to pay back the $1,000,000 in 50 years, at the most, with about 3 per cent interest.

And the co-op would have to buy stock in the NMCHC equal to 7 1-2 per cent of the loan — 2 1-2 per cent when the loan was given and another 5 per cent over 20 years. Which means:

With 125 people in the co-op, 2 1-2 per cent of $1,000,000 (or $25,000) would call for each of the 125 to put up $200 to buy NMCHC stock.

In other words, each would be making a down payment of $200 on his home. Then over 20 years the co-op would buy another $50,000 worth of NMCHC stock, or $400 each for the 125 people.

But how come a government agency like the NMCHC would sell any stock at all? That's the idea behind the Senate bill. It's this:

While the NMCHC would start off as a government agency, with

USAF Activity Is Stepped Up In Germany Now

End of Airlift Brings Changes In Training

BY JAMES DEVLIN
WIESBADEN, Germany, Jan. 18 — (AP)— The end of the airlift brought no letdown in U. S. Air Force activity in Germany. The accent now is on combat training by fighter plane and troop carrier outfits.

The four-engined C-54s that carried the bulk of the load in 275,000 food and fuel flights to once-blocked Berlin have been reduced in numbers, but those that remain are busy carrying airborne troops on practice flights.

"I wouldn't have missed the lift," commented a C-54 pilot, "but it is good to be back at our regular work."

The fighters, soon to be replaced by new 600-mile-an-hour jets, whip over Bavaria for training in air-to-air and air-to-ground firing. It is the type designed to knock out aggressor planes or to smash invading troop columns.

High level Air Force officers in Germany also are engrossed with their army and navy counterparts in developing what they call an "air-land" team to function as a smooth-working unit in event of combat.

Unification Accepted

Top officers over here contend that "unification" of the Armed Forces is an accomplished fact in Germany. The Air Force and Army almost invariably combine their maneuvers, to the benefit of each. The Army has asked Lt. Gen. John K. Cannon, U. S. Air Force chief in Europe, to command a joint Army-Air Force maneuver in March.

The Navy is called into the maneuvers whenever the locale permits, although its strength in Germany is small.

Air Force officials are turning attention also to the preliminary phases of the American military aid program to western European countries — another coordination job.

One of the first wrinkles is how to find a terminology understood by all participating nations. It is not just a matter of language.

For instance, to the U. S. Air Force a squadron is 25 aircraft. To the British Royal Air Force a squadron is 12. An American "wing" is 75 aircraft. A British "wing" is 36. A system whereby the same word will mean the same thing to all concerned is being worked out.

Fighter Training

The fighter training will get a shot in the arm this spring with the arrival of 180 latest model jets. They will entirely replace propeller-type and older jets now in use in Germany.

Some airmen expect the approximately 90 propeller-driven F-47 Thunderbolts based at Neuburg will be turned over to western European allies. An a government money, in time through sale of stock to each co-op that borrowed money, NMCHC would pass out of government hands and into the private hands of the co-ops.

When that came about at some future time, future co-ops that sprang up then would be getting their loans from co-op-owned NMCHC.

How much in government would the NMCHC have at the start? About $100,000,000. But any loans from it would have to be paid back with interest.

When the NMCHC needed more than $100,000,000 — as it certainly would — it could sell bonds to the public, mainly banks and business firms.

The government, even after it had eased out of NMCHC, would guarantee those bonds up to a total of $2,000,000,000, enough to build 250,000 homes worth $8,000 each.

Dagwood and Blondie Subjects Of Tennessee Pastor's Sermons

The life and remarkable times of Dagwood Bumstead, which are placed gingerly before readers of the Record-Herald every day in Chic Young's famous King Features comic strip, "Blondie," have acquired new stature. They now have become material for sermons preached from a Memphis (Tenn.) pulpit.

The Rev. Richard B. Gibbs, pastor of Memphis' First Unitarian Church and a clergyman who has achieved some local fame through his freshness and candor of his approach to preaching, built one of his recent sermons around Dagwood and followed it a week later with one in which the fabulous Blondie herself was the key figure.

Sermon Titles

The titles of the sermons were "Dagwood Bumstead—All-American Father?" and "Blondie—Mrs. America?" They were part of a series that included such others as "The Kids—Quiz or Dead End?" "Heaven's Not My Destination (You Don't Have to Tell Me)," and "Has the Church Gone Off the Gold Standard?"

In notifying his parishioners of the sermons, he listed them as "Preview of Coming Attractions." At the foot of the schedule, he noted that "Any resemblance of this list to anything equal number of F-80 Shooting Star jets at Furstenfeldbruck are slated to be returned to the United States.

Replacement of these aircraft by new F-84-E Thunderjets is on a one-for-one basis. That fails to reflect the increased striking power the new planes will provide. Thunderjets carry six machine guns and 32 five-inch high velocity rockets, compared with the F-47's eight machine guns and 12 rockets, have a speed of better than 600 miles an hour and can fly above 45,000 feet. They can fly 1,700 miles — or 850 miles from base to deliver an attack and return to the take-off point.

The U. S. Air Force has based heavy bombers in England. It has no bombers as such in Germany, although the new jets can serve as fighter-bombers. By varying their rocket load, each can carry 2,000 pounds of bombs or two 1100-pound "Tiny Tim" rockets.

Seven From County At Ohio University

Seven students from Fayette County are among the 5,852 students enrolled for the fall session at Ohio University, a check of registration records reveals.

Of the total four are men and three women, with two being listed as freshmen, two as sophomores, and three as seniors.

The Fayette County students are Bloomingburg: John M. Glenn, freshman and Evelyn S. Parrett, sophomore, both University College.

Moose Set Turkey Dinner For Friday

City Manager Winston W. Hill will be the principal speaker at the annual turkey dinner of the Moose Lodge here Friday night.

The turkey dinner is an annual event for Moose members and their wives. The dinner will be prepared by the Women of the Moose and will be served at 7 P. M. at the Moose Home, 244 1-2 East Court Street.

According to Jacob Weizer, executive-secretary, the membership has been carded and a large turnout is expected.

Hill, guest speaker on the program, will speak on the topic: "Cooperation and Its Value."

The menu, a gourmet's dream, features roast turkey, with oyster dressing, mashed potatoes, turkey gravy, cranberry sauce, creamed peas, celery, radishes, pan rolls and butter cold slaw and coffee.

The Moose Lodge is being renovated at the present time, Weizer said, and when completed, an open house will be held for everyone in the community.

Fair Plans Made By 4-H Club Group

Members of the 4-H club executive committee made some plans for the annual Fayette County Fair at their regular monthly meeting this week in the Farm Bureau building.

Plans for possible improvements in the 4-H club exhibits were discussed. Mrs. Lawrence Hoppes was appointed chairman of the Fair plans and Charles

Super-Government and Excessive Taxation

The gravest and most far-reaching internal issue this country faces is the cost of its government. And of all issues, it is probably the least understood.

At a time when the federal government's income is at a near-record peak, and when the burden of taxation borne by the people is without precedent in days of peace, the nation is unable to make both ends meet. It is running a heavy deficit which will be added to the towering national debt—a debt which is a direct obligation upon every man with an income, a piece of property, or material resources of any kind.

There is, of course, a glib answer to all of this. It is: "Tax the rich man and the rich business—let them carry the load for the rest of us." But the fact is that we could tax the rich into financial extinction and the proceeds wouldn't even come close to paying the bill. It is the tens of millions with moderate means—not the few with large means—who are hurt by extravagant federal government. But that is not the end of the story. Something infinitely ominous is quietly happening in this country. Too much government and taxes are gradually undermining our economic growth.

The difficulty about federal, and in some cases also state taxes, is that they are beyond the immediate control of the people. Our county and city taxes are more directly in our own hands. We can change a local county situation if we don't like it.

Federal taxes however begin far away from us, down at Washington D. C. The people who create these taxes are not close to us. Only Congress can stand between such taxes and the people and many politically minded congressmen go along with most anything an administration wants.

Therefore, taxation directly affects all our liberties. Excessively expensive government is always super-government. It is paternalistic government. It is, in its more advanced stages, government by fiat and decree. It is, in its final stages, government by terror. The Russian revolution was fought in the name of the common man. And now, in that huge "people's state," tens of millions of common men and women live miserably in medieval darkness, and real liberty is unknown.

The basic troubles of the world, from war to human want, can in one way or another be charged to too much government. All-powerful government is simply a reflection of the loss of individual self-reliance, initiative, pride, independence of spirit, the will to work—the qualities which made possible the founding and the growth of this republic. We, as a people, are fortunate that we have not yet gone so far on the "welfare state" road that we cannot turn back. We can still save ourselves from the final disaster that has overcome so much of the world. But we, as a people, must do it ourselves. Big government will not do it for us. We must ask ourselves this question: "Are we willing, in return for a mirage of material security, for which we pay through exorbitant taxation, to sacrifice those liberties for which men have fought and struggled for two thousand years?"

It is probably of some significance that the Army now has only seven fertilizer production plants.

Type of Paralysis Comes Late in Life

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

PEOPLE are living longer today than ever before in history, which means that doctors are called on to treat an ever-increasing number of patients for the type of disorder which develops in later life. One such condition is hemiplegia or paralysis of one-half of the body due to apoplexy or hemorrhage into the brain.

Here, the aim of treatment must be to improve the action of the affected muscles, to prevent or correct deformities, and to help the patient to adjust to the demands of daily living.

Use of Heat

Physical therapy, that is, the use of heat, massage and exercise is quite helpful in this condition, provided it is properly outlined by an expert. The treatment should be started early, and then the measures adapted to the severity of the disorder.

What are known as passive movements, if started early, can help prevent deformities. These passive movements are carried out by having someone move the patient's arms and legs. The physician often determines the amount of muscle strength and range of movement of the joints, that is, the distance the arms and legs can be moved, before he starts his treatment. Then, by making these measurements from time to time, he can determine whether or not improvement is taking place.

If the affected parts are painful, the application of heat in the form of hot water packs, is often useful. Massage given after the heat treatment, if there is any swelling of the tissues, is also of value.

Muscle Movements

Reeducation of muscle movements, which enable the patient to be up and about, is of great importance. As soon as the patient is able, he can take active exercise. Such exercise helps to stretch the contracted tissues. The use of splints to help keep the tissues from becoming contracted is also important.

Getting the patient interested in some type of activity is valuable in order to boost his morale, and such activities also help to reeducate the muscles. With prompt and early treatment of these paralyzed persons, many of them can be returned to productive work if the treatment is kept up long enough.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

J. M.: What is the proper treatment for kidney stones?

Answer: When an individual has large stones, the only way to get rid of them, as far as is known at the present time, is by means of an operation. Smaller stones may pass from the kidney to the small tube known as the ureter into the bladder and then pass out of the body.

Insecurity Is Cloud Over Future

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK — (P)—Look backward 50 years—look forward 50 years—and which period would you rather live in?

The right answer to that lies in what kind of a world is being made right now, from day to day and year to year.

But as the century rolls into its fiftieth year many elderly people are doubtful that life today holds as much fun or security as it did between 1900 and 1910. My mother is one of these.

"I think young people today have a much harder time of it than we did when I was a girl," she told me.

This surprised me, as it is more customary for her contemporaries to complain that this is a lazy, pleasure-seeking generation. I asked her why she thought as she did. And her answer surprised me even more.

"Well, we didn't have all the labor-saving things around the home that young wives do now," she said. "But I think we had more real security. People in those days didn't seem to have so much trouble finding a place to live, and I don't think they had to worry so much about what would happen next."

And she added placidly:

"I really feel sorry for the young people today, and I wouldn't want to trade places with them at all."

Other people her age tell me that they are sure they got a bigger kick out of life than young folks do now, because they had more real zest for living. They say they have found the subway no real improvement over the horse car. And they are even more certain that picnics and hayrides held more social enjoyment than an evening at the movies.

"We used to entertain ourselves," they say. "We didn't look to others to entertain us so much."

Some of this fun and feeling of security is probably just the glamor that memory usually throws over the past. But there is also undoubtedly a hard kernel of truth in these reminiscences.

In the world of 1900 to 1914 America was a young self-confident giant just realizing his power, certain he could stand alone and whip all comers he had always done so.

But in the world of 1950 America is a middle-aged giant, even stronger in adulthood, but realizing now the responsibility of his power—and that he doesn't stand alone.

The difference between those two worlds is the difference between a freshman highjump star, who can win by himself, and a big league baseball pitcher, who knows he can ultimately win only by good team play.

Security in 1900 for the average American meant a home, a job with opportunity for advancement, and a chance to educate his children. He had no real fears of foreign armies invading his homeland and held only a vague contempt for Europe because it was always getting itself mixed up in battles.

Today the age-old insecurity caused by poverty and unemployment has been reduced in the United States by a half century of social progress unknown before in history. But the new insecurity of the atom bomb hangs as heavily over the American home as it does over the Russian. A man can't be entirely happy merely because his children have more food and better schooling—if he fears they will not be peace but by the sword.

Germany under national socialism had old age pensions and full employment—but no security, for it had no peace.

And it is hard to see how America or the rest of the world, for we are all knotted together in that problem, will ever know real security again until we learn, as H. G. Wells said, that "our true nationality is mankind."

If the goal is reached in 50 years, the world of 2000 will be as much fun and as safe to live in as that lost world our mothers loved as girls.

Sokolsky

When the nations at war with Germany and Japan attended Dumbarton Oaks and later the San Francisco Conference, they sought a formula to establish a community of nations, a parliament of man, some kind of one world. But no one assumed at those conferences that World War II would lead to the conquest of the human race by Soviet Russia. In fact, the war was fought to prevent Hitler from ruling a limited area in Europe.

At no time was it assumed, even at San Francisco, that five years later, one country, Soviet Russia, would have been permitted by the United States and Great Britain to become the dominant nation on earth. Certainly the United States never anticipated that this country would become a minority on the security council of the United Nations. The shock of Soviet intentions, made amply clear at the Potsdam Conference, forced an end to the policy of cooperation with Russia and to the "cold war."

It must now be admitted by the facts that Soviet Russia has been victorious in the "cold war." All her immediate objectives have been attained. This Stalin accomplished by a recognition of three factors in the situation:

1. The United States has become so befuddled by a domestic struggle for the continuance in office by the new deal group, that Stalin could, with patience and skill, utilize situations to his advantage. The most useful situation for him was the absolute political necessity for the State Department to cover up the mistakes made by Roosevelt at Teheran and Yalta. Stalin's advantage was improved when Dean Acheson became secretary of state.

2. Great Britain has been a dependent country for many years, making up her deficits through grants-in-aid provided by the United States. The most recent such grant was the Marshall Plan upon which we piled European Military Aid.

But it has become obvious from our own figures that the United States is beginning to weary of aiding the British, whose most recent emphasis is upon what is called point four—a scheme by which the United States is to underwrite the British colonies in particular and most colonies held by Europeans in general. But point four is not doing so well in Congress, for in spite of giving the plan such a meaningless name as point four, which covers a multitude of schemes, Congress does not like any of it.

So the British set out to make trade deals with Soviet Russia, not directly but through such satellites as Poland, Czechoslovakia and Soviet China. The most important of these deals involves the recognition of Soviet China and the retention of Hongkong by Great Britain.

In all this maneuvering, the British needed assurances that the United States would not be too offended. That a way would be found to placate the American government and American public opinion. In this, the British were fortunate in having as Secretary of State, Dean Acheson, who blindly pursues British policy and who, as a Yalta traditionalist, must carry up the errors of Roosevelt, Harry Hopkins, Alger Hiss, and other authors of Russia's conquest of China.

2. The third factor in Stalin's favor is the very old historic fact that nobody likes a creditor and nobody likes the good fellow who gives him money away so freely that he makes the debtor feel cheap and resentful.

Stalin's propaganda machine has worked with great skill to convince all the recipients of American favors that the gifts are not a free-will offering from a compassionate people aiding others in distress, but rather that American imperialism is using money to enslave peoples. In a word, their "fear" propaganda has been effective, but largely because, in the handling of American aid, nothing has been done to protect the reputation of the United States. From UNRRA until today, American aid has not served American prestige.

Stalin's plan is to isolate the United States. To date, he has done remarkably well in a short time.

Judge Talks Of Responsibility In Family Life

Dayton Jurist Is Speaker Before Rotarians Here

How we are handling our family life was the theme for a talk presenting some of the problems affecting practically every community, which was given before Rotarians and guests at Tuesday's luncheon at the Country Club by Judge Frank W. Nicholas of Dayton.

It was more than a thought-provoking address. It offered a challenge to public spirited thinking people to find a more adequate solution to the question of unpleasant family relationships, broken families and resultant juvenile difficulties.

Judge Nicholas is now in his tenth year as a Judge of the Divisions of Domestic Relations of the Common Pleas Court at Dayton. He has observed a wide variety of family troubles, problems which he said "requires that one be an optimist and have supreme faith in God and the people, to keep from getting 'down mentally and physically.'"

Declaring that Fayette County doubtless had many similar cases only lesser in number than a court like his in Dayton, he told of his experiences in seeing a constant parade of family difficulties brought into his court, some pitiful, some laughable and some of a type to arouse the anger of any one hearing the evidence.

Selfishness The Basis

"What is the real ground behind most of this?" he asked, and then gave his version as "selfishness showing in many ways where one or the other of a married couple is trying to take more out of married life than he or she is willing to put into it."

Judge Nicholas asserted that in his opinion "too many youngsters are getting married just 'to see if it will work', without little or any thought toward the responsibility they should assume." He said that many take the attitude that if it does not work well they can easily get out of it.

"What can we expect from the unborn children in such cases?" he asked and then declared that "our churches, our schools and our community organizations must give more and more thought to methods of impressing upon people their moral and civic responsibilities."

Parental Responsibility

He stressed the utter lack of responsibility of many parents and said that many juvenile crimes can be traced to the fact that children involved feel like outcasts and enjoy no sense of security or home encouragement.

Juvenile cases are the most important of all those within family relationship which get into court, he said. Many times the courts are helpless in such instances because the law allows little or no discretion in handling some of them.

He made an earnest plea for people to give serious thought to some of these problems because there are many instances of community life being affected by them. He closed with a pertinent poem "Just Like My Dad" touching upon how children regard their parents.

At President Paul Pennington's request Judge Rell G. Allen, who is the juvenile judge for Fayette County, responded. He seconded many of the things Judge Nicholas said and urged particularly that adults give more thought to the example they may be setting for their own and other children.

During the club's business session Webber French gave a brief

Bell Almanac Replete With Information

When the first barge started through the Erie Canal across New York State and down the Hudson in 1825, a gun fired at Buffalo set off a relay of cannon all the way to New York City, sending the news in an hour and 20 minutes that the famous waterway was in operation.

The Bell Telephone Almanac for 1950, now available at The Ohio Bell Telephone Company's business here, tells about this historic episode and a colorful assortment of other instances down through the centuries of man's efforts to communicate with others by sending sound over distances.

To accomplish this man has relied upon a variety of devices such as drums, horns, bells, rattles and speaking tubes. Reading the almanacs, one will see these early steps in the quest for rapid communication, illustrated by numerous fine-line drawings from the pen of Paul Hawthorne, prominent Boston artist.

The name of Ohio appears in several places. For instance, the book tells of how President Rutherford B. Hayes, an Ohioan, directed installation of the first White House telephone in December, 1878. Some time thereafter the president's telephone was placed in a booth near, but not in, his office.

It remained in a booth more than 50 years. President Herbert Hoover was the first to have a telephone at his elbow when he requested the installation of a desk set in 1929.

The White House had water piped in during 1853 and the first electric lights were installed about 1890 while Benjamin Harrison was in office.

Also mentioned in the almanac is the fact that Marietta, O., named for Marie Antoinette, was founded in 1788 and lists August 23, 1785, as the date of birth of Oliver Hazard Perry, hero of the Battle of Lake Erie.

account of the trip made by a group of local Rotarians to the meeting at the Granville Inn, last week, when a Rotary charter was presented to the new club at Granville.

The new Junior Rotarian, Norman Burris was introduced by Victor Smith and the outgoing member of this group, James Musser appropriately thanked the club for his two weeks' membership.

Many From Here At Health Meet

Xenia Conference Termed 'Valuable'

"The broad subject of health should be taught with other things in high school—it should be integrated with the regular curriculum."

This was one of the conclusions reached in a panel discussion at the Third Annual Southwestern Ohio Rural Health Conference held Monday in Xenia, reported County Supt. of Schools W. J. Hilty.

Hilty was one of a group of Fayette Countyans who attended the meeting, the theme of which was "High School Health Programs."

J. Paul Strevey, executive-secretary of the Fayette County Tuberculosis and Health Association, attended the conference and said the material presented was comprehensive in scope. The speakers were very competent, he added, and the conference drew a large crowd.

"Although most of the speakers told what they thought was wrong with high school programs and recommended what they thought should be included in the health area, no concrete suggestions were made as to how this should be done," Strevey said.

Stress High School Needs

Hilty reiterated this and added that "the stress was on physical, mental, emotional and social health needs" in the high school. He also said that the need for sex education was mentioned. Both Hilty and Strevey said the information that came out of the meeting was "valuable."

Others attending the conference from the county were Dr. Gordon E. Savage, county health commissioner, Miss Gretchen Darlington, chief nurse of the Health Department, Mrs. Josephine Maggi, student nurse with the Health Department and Mrs. Norma Campbell, county home demonstration agent.

Also present were Harold E. Thomas, supt. of the Good Hope schools, Mrs. D. A. Creamer, Mrs. Howard Hopkins, Mrs. Forrest Evin, Mrs. Albert Vannorsdall and Mrs. J. L. Owens.

and LOOK WHAT IT'S MEANT TO OHIO FARMERS

FACT Your farm real estate taxes are lower because of a strong Farm Bureau program ... in fact, 27c per hundred dollars lower than the national average. On an $8,000-appraised farm this is $21.60—four times the cost of an annual Farm Bureau membership.

FACT Farm Bureau has done more to bring low cost fertilizer than any other single agency. In the beginning, it brought about a 35% drop in prices. Because of Farm Bureau fertilizer's price index today is the lowest of any major farm supply.

FACT Today, Farm Bureau markets 10% of Ohio's wheat crop. They're in the market every day of the year, smoothing out ups and downs that benefit traders, rather than farmers. This, plus blending, has meant better grain prices and service.

FACT A lot of folks laughed, back in '26, when that "bunch of farmers" went into the insurance business. It wasn't long before farm auto rates dropped 40%. Today, Farm Bureau is one of the largest auto mutuals in America, and the fire and life companies among the fastest growing!

FACT When Ohio passed the retail sales tax, Farm Bureau was alert to see that it didn't apply to farm supplies purchased. If you bought $1,000 worth of supplies last year, this savings would pay your membership for 6 years.

FACT Farm trucks wear out the roads less than commercial trucks. Knowing this, Farm Bureau fought for lower license costs. If you own a farm truck of 3000 lbs., your annual saving is $10.

FACT Farm Bureau vigilance has kept tangible personal property tax at 50% valuation for farm livestock, machinery, tools, engines, etc., rather than 75 or 100% assessed valuation of items not used on the farm.

This is George

When it comes to Farm Bureau work, a lot of folks say "Let George do it." George has done a fine job, but he's had to carry too many of those fellows along. A good farm program is everybody's concern because everybody benefits. Don't just ride along on what George is doing—get behind him and build with him. (Farm Bureau) shatters old notions of value!

"Step-down" designed
Hudsons leaders in resale value!
Let us show you, in figures from Official Used Car Guide Books of the National Automobile Dealer Association, that Hudson is a leader in resale value, cost to cost!

HERE'S THE CAR that's turned the tide ... the car that returns the greatest-ever value for the dollars you invest!

The new, lower-priced Pacemaker is a car you instantly see is the most beautiful of them all!

Free-flowing, low-built design telegraphs the fact that it has the lowest center of gravity in any American automobile. And you know instinctively that, as a result, the thrilling Hudson Pacemaker hugs the road more tenaciously and is therefore America's safest, best-riding car!

You quickly see, too, that this new member of the Hudson family has full road clearance, and more head room than in any mass-produced car built today—thanks to "step-down" design with its recessed floor.

And amazing head room is only one kind of interior spaciousness that's yours to enjoy in the new Pacemaker.

Through "step-down" design and ingenious use of space that is wasted in other makes of cars, this compact automobile of normal exterior width brings you seat cushions that are up to 12 inches wider than those in cars of far greater outside dimensions!

There's an extra dividend for you, too, in the brilliant, new high-compression Pacemaker engine ... a lightning-like performer with saving ways.

You are invited to see and try the Pacemaker. This new, lower-priced Hudson will revise all your ideas of motor-car value!

Edward Cobb Guest Speaker At Lioness Club Dinner Meeting

The regular dinner meeting of the Lioness Club was held at the Washington Country Club Tuesday evening. Forty-six were in attendance and were seated at three long tables for the delicious meal.

Blue and white tapers were placed at intervals on the tables with miniature horses making up the unique theme of the decorations.

Following the congenial dinner Mr. Edward Cobb was introduced by the president Lioness Bobby Marting and showed interesting movies of his famous horse, Jerry The First, who recently broke the world's record in a race at Hollywood Park, Inglewood, California. Two feature races were included, one being the $50,000 Golden West Pace, which was most interesting to his audience, narrating the race and naming other horses and drivers participating in the race. He also had recordings of the race given by the announcer. Mr. Cobb was presented with a lovely gift for which he graciously responded.

Later a brief business session was conducted under the direction of the Lioness President Bobby Marting during which a liberal donation was made to the March of Dimes campaign.

Hostesses for the evening were made up of Chairman Lioness Ann Reinke, assisted by Lionesses, Gail Rossmann, Mary Rettig and Janice Sagar.

Miss Beverly Gilton was a guest with Lioness Martha Gilton.

Beta Sigma Phi Sorority Meets

The regular meeting of the Ohio Zeta Upsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority was held at Eagles Hall. Mrs. John E. Rhoads, president, conducted the business session.

The committee chairmen gave reports on plans for activities for the chapter during the coming three months.

Mrs. Delbert Marshall, chairman of the social committee, gave tentative plans for a bridge party on February 14.

The topics for the cultural program under the direction of Mrs. Roy Hagler were: "Nature's Landscapes" and "The Tools For The Art of Life." Mrs. Lee Alderman and Mrs. Victor Bandy carried out the theme of the artist's landscapes, followed by Mrs. Delbert Marshall whose subject was "Gardens." She described both formal and informal gardens of America and foreign countries. Mrs. Robert Munsell, spoke on the topic "The Truth of Words" and Mrs. Charles Spetnagel "The Good of Words."

Following the program tempting refreshments were served by the hostesses for the evening Miss Patti Maddox, Mrs. Robert Munsell and Mrs. Robert Olinger.

Mrs. L. P. Howell of Glen Ellyn, Ill., is the guest for an indefinite visit of Miss Alberta Coffman.

JETSY PARKER of Pasadena, Cal., has been picked as "Miss February" for a forthcoming musical movie. Selection was made by George Petty, famed "pin-up" artist. (International)

ACCORDING to George Petty, well-known pin-up girl artist, there is no standard American beauty for 1950. Instead, he selected beauties for each month to appear in new movie. The lovely here is "Miss October." Her name is Carol Rush and she lives in Memphis, Mo. (International)

Wedding Takes Place In Dayton Jan. 14

The wedding of Miss Norma Jean Graham and Mr. Malcolm Popovich, was solemnized Saturday January 14 at 2:30 P. M., at the Riverdale Church of Christ in Dayton.

Miss Graham is the daughter of Mrs. Harry Irvin of Dayton and Mr. Forest Graham of Columbus, former residents of this city and Mr. Popovich is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Popovich of Dayton.

Rev. Cecil Allmon officiated at the single ring ceremony. A program of nuptial music preceded the wedding. The bride wore a street length blue taffeta dress with matching accessories and an American Beauty rose corsage.

She carried a white Bible. Miss Pauline Miller, the bride's only attendant, wore a pink dress with navy accessories. Her corsage was of yellow rosebuds. Mr. Milford Shettler of Wellman, Ia. was best man for the groom, and Mr. Austin Miller was the usher for the open church wedding. A reception followed at the bride's home. The bride's mother was dressed in a black silk print dress and wore a gardenia corsage.

The groom's mother was wearing a royal blue dress and her corsage was of gardenias. Miss Graham's grandmother wore a black dress and her corsage was of gardenias. Hostesses for the reception were Mrs. Austin Miller of Dayton and Mrs. Gerald Stephenson of this city, assisted by Miss Joan Morris of Dayton and Miss Nancy Stephenson. The couple left later for a short wedding trip in Richmond, Indiana, and on their return will reside on their newly purchased farm near Greenville.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Williams have returned to their home in Jeffersonville after spending the past few days in Portsmouth as the guests of Mrs. Williams' daughter Mrs. C. W. Lilly and Mr. Lilly, while there Mr. Williams attended a business meeting of the Ashland Oil and Refinery in Ashland, Ky., of which he is a representative.

Mr. and Mrs. William Mace and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Beatty have returned from a three weeks vacation in Florida.

Mr. Ormond Dewey was a business visitor in Cincinnati Tuesday. Mrs. Dewey accompanied him.

Class President Is Hostess At Regular Meeting

The Kings Daughters Class of the First Christian Church assembled at the home of the newly elected president Mrs. Milbourne Flee, for the first meeting of the new year.

The business session opened with Mrs. Flee presiding, and the usual reports were given and accepted. Roll call was responded to by a perfect attendance of members. It was decided to bring clothing and miscellaneous articles to the February meeting to be given to a needy family.

Communications from the World Friendship Among Children, and the Cleveland Christian Home were read thanking the class for recent donations. The lesson study was conducted by the class teacher Miss Naomi Butterfield, which brought the meeting to a close.

A social hour followed during which the hostess served a delicious dessert course.

McCarty Hosts To Class Members

Rev. and Mrs. Francis T. McCarty were host and hostess to the Young Adult Class of the First Baptist Church, Tuesday evening, with twenty members present, opening with a song service and a vocal solo, "There's Joy In Serving Jesus" by Mrs. Robert West, accompanied by Mrs. McCarty.

Miss Leah Krebs led in the devotions, and closed with the Lord's Prayer.

The business session was in charge of Mr. Robert Lambert. Mrs. Howard Burnett, Jr., gave the secretary and treasurer's reports. A donation in the form of an offering taken was made to the Baptist Missionary Girls' Training School, in Chicago, for scholarships.

Several projects of the class were discussed and the meeting was closed with prayer by Rev. McCarty.

A social hour followed with games and contests provided as entertainment and later Mrs. McCarty served a delicious salad course.

Guests included were Mr. and Mrs. Robert West, of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, who will, after completing their last semester at a missionary school in New York, leave for Europe on a missionary assignment.

Hospital Patients Are Entertained

The regular monthly visit of the American Legion Auxiliary members to the Chillicothe Veterans' Hospital was made Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Charlene Malone, rehabilitation chairman in charge of the arrangements.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Johnson, accompanied the members. Mrs. Johnson accompanied at the piano for group singing and also delighted the sixty patients in 211A and 211B wards with piano solos, which is one of their favorite forms of amusement.

Refreshments made up of coffee, homemade cake, candy and cigarettes were served the patients at the close of the party.

In addition to Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, those accompanying Mrs. Malone were Mrs. Howard Mace, Mrs. Lawson Rhoads, Mrs. Otis Hess and Mrs. Clovis Graves.

Club Members Are Entertained By Mrs. Snyder

Mrs. Edgar Snyder entertained the members of the Tuesday Kensington for the regular social get-together on Tuesday afternoon. Twelve members enjoyed the informal visiting and congenial chatting which was interrupted with the serving of a tempting salad course served on attractive individual trays by the hostess assisted by Mrs. G. C. Kidner and Mrs. Walter Ellis.

Sabina

Club Entertained

Mrs. Everett Heston entertained her two table bridge club at her lovely country home Thursday evening. At the close of play Mrs. H. L. Littleton held high and Mrs. E. R. Mills, second. Miss Janet Fenner of Urbana spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Fenner.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Waddle and son Jimmy were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Snider and Junior.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Yarger spent the weekend with the former's sister Mrs. Ira McClellan and son Forrest in Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sessler were

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alan McVey.

Misses Jean Powers and Jean Palmer were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cline and daughter Miss Martha Jo Cline of Columbus. The dinner being in honor of the birthday of Miss Cline.

Mrs. Sherman Mathews spent Wednesday and Wednesday night with her mother Mrs. Frank Hook who is ill.

An unusual hostess gift at holiday time is a large brandy glass (which can be used later as a flower vase) filled with mints. Paste huge blue lawyer's seals on it for eyes and a big red seal for the mouth, put amber cellophane across the top and curl edges around the knitting needle to get a blond-haired effect.

Dancing girl lapel pins can be made with pipe cleaners. You'll need one for the head and body, one for arms, another for legs, and a fourth for a skirt. Tint the cleaners appropriate colors, twist in shape and attach a small safety pin to the back.

Leftover cooked broccoli makes a delicious soup when combined with chicken stock or bouillon and milk. Season well with salt and pepper, an herb or two, and a sliver of garlic. Remove the garlic before serving.

Formation Of Newcomers Club Here Discussed

Mrs. E. B. Froelich Gives Talk Before Committee Meeting

"Let the women get it started." That was the advice handed to a committee meeting Tuesday night in the Chamber of Commerce office to discuss the formation of a Newcomers Club in Washington C. H.

The suggestion came from Mrs. Eleanor Froelich of Dayton, district manager of the Welcome Wagon Service Company Inc. for southern Ohio.

Mrs. Froelich told the committee that in most other cities where the Newcomers Clubs have been started the women take the lead, as a rule, in setting up the organization.

"New women in town need the benefits more than the men. The men are usually out all day long meeting people. Their wives stay home and wish they knew someone," Mrs. Froelich said. She added: "Once the women get started the men will soon get interested."

Suggestion was made that women at the meeting Tuesday night contact about 12 women who haven't been in town too long and invite them to a meeting at which the formation of a Newcomers Club will be discussed again.

Later, it was suggested, a big get-together could be held, with several city officials, businessmen and other civic leaders on hand to meet the newcomers and welcome them to the city.

Would Elect Officers

At this meeting both husbands and wives would be invited, it was pointed out. What actually will be done to get the Newcomers started in Washington C. H. will be left in the hands of the Newcomers themselves as much as possible, the committee stated.

They would elect their own officers and plan their own projects. Suggestion was made that although the club would be primarily a social organization, it could also be made aware of the city's offerings through conducted tours or talks.

Mrs. Froelich presented information about other Newcomers Clubs in Ohio. She said the general practice followed by the clubs was to have meetings monthly — usually luncheons — with special meetings planned three or four times yearly to include both husbands and wives.

Suggestion was made that membership in the club be limited to three years since by that time most people who have moved into the city will have become acquainted. If membership is allowed to go beyond three years, the club will soon have people who cannot be considered newcomers any longer, Mrs. Froelich told the committee.

The following women, present at the meeting Tuesday night, will meet with a few newcomers to make plans for the first steps in the formation of a club here: Mrs. Lowell Miller, Mrs. Ben Norris, Mrs. Roy F. Plymale and Mrs. E. P. Suntheimer. Others present at the Tuesday meeting were C. E. McCarley, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, Mac Dews, Paul VanVoorhis and Neil Hercules. A. E. Weatherly, president of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce, was unable to be present.

One Driver Cited

Edward Lewis Bach, 50, of Columbus, was the only man arrested by police Tuesday night. He was cited for running through a red light. He posted $10 bond.

Last Rites Read For M. E. Thompson

Funeral services for Marion E. Thompson, who died Friday in Bloomingburg, were held at 2 P. M. Tuesday at the Baptist Church here, with the Rev. W. H. Wilson in charge, assisted by Rev. Francis T. McCarty.

Rev. Wilson delivered the sermon while Rev. McCarty offered prayer and read the scripture. Flower bearers included Mrs. George McClary, Mrs. Margaret Henry, Mrs. Lena Cottrill, Mrs. Rachel Rockwell, Mrs. Frances Walls and Mrs. Edith Roney. There was a wealth of beautiful flowers.

Mrs. Charles Hurt and Mrs. Carl Preston sang the hymns, "Whispering Hope," "Precious Name," and "I'm Going Home." Pallbearers were David Whiteside, Perl Baughn, Laris Hard, Charles Cook, Orville Scott and Harley Ward.

Burial was made in the Washington Cemetery under the direction of the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home.

Fayette Convicts Are Up For Parole

Three men who were sentenced to the Mansfield Reformatory from Fayette County, will be up for releases Feb. 21, the parole board has announced.

All of the men who are eligible to be released on parole figured in jail break here. They overpowered Guy Carter, who was the deputy sheriff, and made their escape, only to be recaptured and sent to the state reformatory.

Two of the men were confined here for burglarizing the Denton Implement Store on West Court Street. They are Robert Ringo and William McKenna, of Louisville, Ky.

The third man is Clare Hyer, who was sent up for issuing checks without funds.

More Than 100 At Big Concord Turkey Supper

Orville Waddle Named Chairman For The Year

Concord Township Farm Bureau families turned out in large numbers Tuesday evening to eat three huge turkeys and all the trimmings that the women had provided. It was the largest attendance at any of the annual meetings, with at least 110 persons present.

Officers elected for the year were: Orville Waddle, chairman; Orville Bush, vice chairman, and Kenneth Bush, secretary.

The business meeting was in charge of retiring chairman, Emerson Marting. New Farm Bureau member families were introduced and report on membership showed 67 paid member families for the year.

Russell Theobald and wife were guests for the evening. Theobald, a delegate to the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation annual meeting last November, gave a report on the meeting.

Robert Case, a director of the Farm Bureau Cooperative Association, gave a very interesting history of the development of cooperatives, both in Europe and in this country and he presented a report of the year's business for the local association. He announced that the annual meeting would be held at the Washington High School Auditorium on Friday, March 3.

Picture Shown

Ben Glover, manager of membership and service department of the Farm Bureau Cooperative Association, was present and gave a report on the work he was doing with the association.

A very interesting picture, entitled "Paradise Valley" was shown by Paul Mohr, Farm Bureau insurance agent. The picture gave some lessons on farm safety.

Mrs. Juanita Nisley reported on the home demonstration work of the county, and W. W. Montgomery reported on the Shepherd's Club banquet to be held February 7, and the Swine Breeders and Feeders banquet set for February 13.

Walter Sollars, member of the Producers Livestock advisory committee, reported on the work of the association for the past year and announced the annual meeting to be held February 9, at the Memorial Hall.

Scouts To Help Dimes Campaign

Cub scout den No. 4 plans to raise money for the annual March of Dimes campaign now underway in Fayette County and other parts of the United States.

This was brought out Tuesday night at a meeting of the group at the home of Mrs. Eddie Jones in Washington C. H.

The meeting opened with a liv-

Parent Teachers Vote Dimes Aid

Members of the New Martinsburg P.T.A. voted Tuesday night at their regular meeting in the New Martinsburg Township Hall to contribute funds to aid in the March of Dimes drive against polio.

Several solos were sung and a dance was held, with the proceeds going to the P.T.A. fund.

Those who sang solos included Bunk Miller, Mrs. Joan Watson and Mrs. Eldon Marshall. In charge of the program were Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCopping, Mr. and Mrs. William Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Hudnell.

Named to have charge of the program committee for the February meeting of the group were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Wilis Handley, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Riley.

Frankfort Churches Each Receive $2000

The sum of about $2,000 each and half of the "remainder" of the estate of Frank T. McGinnis, who died at Frankfort Dec. 26, has been left to the Methodist and Presbyterian churches of Frankfort under terms of the McGinnis will, just probated in Ross County. Various sums are left to relatives and friends in addition to the bequests made to the two churches.

The value of the estate has not been announced, but the amount left to the churches may greatly exceed the $2,000 for each one.

Anticipate Big Rush In County For Dog Licenses

Those four-legged pets, mister, have to be licensed. And unless you have them tagged within the next couple of days, you may have to pay a penalty.

That's the word which Auditor Ulric Acton is putting out today. He said only about half of the dogs in Fayette County have the required licenses.

That's going to mean an unprecedented rush for licenses before the deadline. Friday is the last day to obtain them at the auditor's office in the Court House. Acton said he has issued about 1,300 licenses to date. Last year approximately 2,600 dogs were licensed in the county. About this many should be licensed this year, it was pointed out.

But unless you get your license now, mister, you may have to pay a penalty.

Basic Mix Is Demonstration By Specialist

"Short Cuts in Baking" was the theme of a demonstration given Tuesday by Miss Marian Moore, foods and nutrition specialist from Ohio State University, at the Farm Bureau auditorium to a group of women leaders working with home demonstration groups in the county.

Miss Moore demonstrated the making of a basic mix, which could be used in making biscuits, pancakes, muffins, coffee cake, plain cake, drop cookies or dumpings. She was assisted by Mrs. Norma Campbell, home demonstration agent for Fayette County.

The leaders attending this meeting will pass on this information to the women in their own communities in the county.

The recipe for basic mix is a "fool proof" one and anyone using it and following directions can produce biscuits and other products of very fine quality, it was stated.

Those attending the meeting included: Mrs. Lewis Parrett, Mrs. Ralph Pope, Mrs. Harold Mark, Mrs. Jean Nisley, Mrs. Edgar Wilson, Mrs. Charles Duff, Mrs. Verne Wilson, Mrs. Wilbur Hoppes, Mrs. Roscoe Whiteside, Mrs. Lon Chattin, Mrs. Preston Dray, Mrs. Arthur Schlichter, Miss
